W. H. POTTS & CO., No. 3. Queen's Buildings. BOVRIL AT THE FRONT.

Bovril has played such a conspicuous part in South Africa that it forms no inconsiderable feature of the story. The 'Lancet' has had frequent references to Boyril in the reports of the officers of the Royal Army Medico Corps. Nearly every newspaper correspondent has had to refer to Bovel to make his story complete. Rudyard Kipling and Baden Powell have written their Boyril stories. Over 500 British hospitals and similar public institutions use and prescribe Bovril, not 8,45 p.m. and 9 p.m., 9,45 p.m. to 11.15 beef tea, but Bovril.

The reason is not far to seek. Bovril a neurnisher as well as a stimulant. contains the albumen and fibring, the sustaining properties of the beef. It this fact, together with its absolute purity that commends Boyril to physcians and scientists, and proves in practice what it 1580 demonstrates in analysis.

Fatal Riot in Assam. Calcutta, July 12 .- News comes of a serious riot on Jaboka Tea Estate, Sibsagar 1575 district, Assam, on Sunday: It is stated that the coolies attacked the manager and his assistant; and the latter was so body injured that he died on Wednesday. Details are wanting. The Deputy Commissioner, with an escort of police, is toported to have reached Jaboka.

. July 14, -From further particulars of the riot on Julioita ten estate, in Assan, it appears that the coolies in the teachouse refused work upless extra pay was given them. Mr Plaistone, the assistant, sentefor the manager. Mr Showers, who tried to induce the men to resume work. They refused, and eventually mobbed the two Ecro-1254 peans, assaulting them with sticks. Mr Plaistowe was so badly injured by blows on the head, that he died three days later. Eight coolies are under arrest.

July 15 .-- A local paper states on the hest authority that Mr Plaistowe, the assistant on Jahola tea estate, died as the I result of a fall two days previously, and not owing to the assault by coolies, adding that this is confirmed by three medical

The Reception at the India Office. London, July II. - Lord George camilton said, in the House of Commons, that the reception at the India Office, on the 4th, was not an evening party, but a State ceremony of importance as commemorating the fact that, for the first time in the history of the country, the Sovereign at the Coronation occupied the position of lord paramount of India.

July 14.—Replying to Mr Labouchere, Lord George Hamilton said that the Viceroy had not been consulted with reference to the charges of the reception at the India Office. The presentation of the Budget would afford an opportunity of discussing Bramble 2 Britomart the question of charges.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

It would appear from the Reuter Telegrams to mills number ten. hand for the past few REVISION. days' that considerable progress is being made with the proposed revision of the Chinese tariff under the new commercial treaty. They probably know more at Shanghai about the drift of affairs than the commercial community of Hongkong, to whom the latest announcements come as a surprise.

The Shanghari Times of the 21st inst. said : According to an apparently Fin Webster's Unabridged. It is used afterwell-founded report now current official circles, Sir James Mackuy has as yet been unable to come to any prefer stance because there is no ambiguity agreement with the Chinese Tariff ture, at the Residence of Mr Charles Commissioners, with regard to the proposed abolition of Lekin and the increase of the import tariff. Sir James Register of Shares of The Hongkong and has been telegraphing to London and Washington the results of his negotiations with the Chinese delegates, who, on their part, have kept the Wai Wupu well informed as to the progress that has been made. The members of the day. Wai Wu pu hold frequent meetings for the purpose of discussing the Lekin question. It is believed they have prepared the draft of a memorial to be submitted to the Throne later recommending that certain of stations at which this tax is collected, shall, under no circumstances, be interfered with. The stations they refer to are probably those which the Viceroys Chang and Liu had in informed of the negotiations, and we are astonished to learn that the local Chamber of Commerce has taken no steps to ascertain the exact terms of the proposed treaty before they are finally adopted by the British Covernment. We are informed that the native newspapers state that the Waiwupu has recommended the Throne to abolish likin: but the newspapers make the significant statement that the abolition of likin will mean no loss of revenue to the provincial the import duties on foreign goods to 111 or 12 per cent ad valorem, likin is to be abolished; but the Chinese, it is stated, are to be allowed to impose a destination tax, which, it is anticipated, will recoup the provincial officials for thus be enabled to carry on local affairs | features, still at the expense of foreign goods Assuming these statements to be correct, the benefit to foreign trade is not pay a higher tariff at the port of entry, and the Chinese Government will thus be enabled to pay its indemnity to the Foreign Powers: and, on the other hand, the foreign goods will pay a destination tax (or a similar the provincial officials in their dealings with the transit-pass system does not develop confidence; and unless the treaty terms are carefully drawn up it is possible that foreign trade will not derive any benefit whatever from Sir James Mackay's negotiations. it was sufficient if the firm was carrying on business within the jurisdiction at the time Court by the special case settled by the parties was as follow :- Were the plaintiff Code of Civil Procedure?" We are of of section 483 it is obvious that the objection is technical, going to the form, and not to the real merits of the action. If the plaintiffs had said in the names of the individual partners instead of in the firm name, no objection of the kind could have been raised, and this was why the plaintiff's solicitor in the Court below, there upon, asked to have the writ amended by substituting the names of the individual partners constituting the firm, for the firm name. He contended that the Judge below had power to make this amondment under either Section 55 or Section 188 of the Code The Judge, however, held that he had no Britain would endeavour to maintain in such power, and nonsuited the plaintiffs. In my opinion, Section 55 of the Code confers the necessary power. Far Eastern Civilization, Art, History, Manners and Customs, have long scomed to many a sterile field. The Illustrated Non-political Quarterly bids fair to show that this field is, on the contrary, richly and pleasingly productive. In his article profusely illustrated to show the styles of Architecture in Lama temples. Mr Ernst Ludwig takes us into the sacred precincts of the Yung Ilo Kung in Peking, one of the buildings visited by Prince Henry of Prussin in 1898 Mr Ludwig's account of the worship and discipline practised in this, the principal institution of its class in the capital, gives a more exalted idea than could, we think be gained elsewhere in China of present day Buddhism in the empire. Its appeal was to that in human nature with which Confucianism has fuited to concern itself - ' the mar vellous heart of man.' The depth and carnestness of the response may be read in the stories of the Buddhist pilgrims—especially in the narra-tive of Fat Hin. Buddhism leastegenerated; is ever open to the appeals of a pure spiritind religion-hoping to find in it an answer to his restless unsatisfied longings. This is the hope, and, we may ald too the assurance for the ultimate fridingh of Christianity in the Empire.

A Peking despatch states that in the recent revision of the commercial treaty there are several articles in regard to the missionaries and converts, as follows .--

Art. 1. Converts cannot be registered as members of the church unless they have been proved to be people of good moral standing, having no unsuffled lawsuits. 1 this be not fulfilled the magistrate may send information to the missionary in charge to dismiss such converts from the church. Art. 2. According to the regulation made in 1899 converts may hand in their law cases to the magistrate and are required to be present in court for the hearing of the said cases within three months. No petitions through missionaries and consula will be regarded to conform to the law. As mis sionaries do not take any share in law cases, officials should try their best to settle such cases in the right manner. Art. 3. Hany case be in some way related to the church, or converts receive despites from others, or injustice done by officials because of being Christians, they have the right to appeal to the officials through missionaries and consuls for redressing their grievances. Art. 4. With the exception of raising funds for idelatious processions all converts with other people alike should give subscriptions to meet the Government public and benevolent expenses. Art. 5. It is not permitted to lot Christian outlaws correcal themselves in Churmay ask the missionaries to affect the

The Honorable Thomas Whitehead, of Quarterly. Shanghai: 'North-China the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Fund. Corporation, and a member of the Legislative Council of Hongkong, came over on the Empress of China which arrived yesterday, and incidentally the Honorable Thomas had the trip of his existence.

According to the story related by Empress passengers, they had decided to give a sort of farewell concert the night before reaching Victoria, wherein everyone with a talent could have a chance to sing or to make a telling speech. The member of impressed with the educational value of the Hongkong Legislative Council was not to be overlooked in the matter, and was asked to preside. Yes, the Honorable Thomas would direct things, and would also make a few remarks.

To carefully map out his clever speech. Mr Whitehead sought the seclusion which the cabin grants, or, rather, he went 'way back to the stern of the ship and sat down Honorable Thomas thought thoughts that breathed and wrote words that burned, leave this Port for MARSEILLES, Via He saw the audience rising to their feet | BOMBAY. and cheering him to the cello.
